

National Clinical Trial Available Locally:

PANCREATIC CYSTS

DISCOVERING PANCREATIC CYSTS

Typically, pancreatic cysts are asymptomatic and incidentally identified on cross-sectional imaging. While many pancreatic cysts are benign, some have the potential of malignant transformation and may already consist of small malignant cells.

Enloe accepts patients with pancreatic lesions that may or may not be cysts.

REFERRING YOUR PATIENTS

The guidelines for the workup, choice of imaging modality, treatment and follow-up can sometimes be complicated. Our goal is to help all providers who are unfamiliar with this process. For this reason, we are happy to work as a team in managing these patients. We will see them in clinic in a timely fashion and help the patient to get worked up and establish a treatment plan.

CLINICAL TRIAL ENROLLMENT

We are excited to announce that we also participate in a clinical trial and are happy to offer enrollment if the patient meets criteria and would like to participate. Please feel free to reach out if you would like more information about trial options.
